The purpose of this Policy is to establish the general framework for the TSUL's relations with its Stakeholders and companies in all of its activities and operations, in order to:

Purpose

encourage Stakeholder participation in the University's activities through a strategy of actively participating in the communities in which it operates and creating shared sustainable value for all of them;
meet the legitimate interests of the Stakeholders with whom TSUL interacts;

Purpose

building trust between stakeholders in order to build long-term, stable and lasting relationships;
encourage the recognition by all Stakeholders of the TSUL's commitment to diversity in the broad sense, especially in all matters relating to the professional development of their members;

Purpose

contribute through all of the above to maintaining the reputation in the various countries and businesses.

STAKEHOLDER ENGAGEMENT POLICY

Basic Principles

The University adopts and promotes the following basic principles of interaction and building trust with its stakeholders:

- A. Responsibility: act responsibly and build relationships based on ethics, honesty, sustainable development, and respect rights of individuals and the communities affected by the various activities.
- B. Transparency: ensure transparency in relationships, and in financial and non-financial communications, sharing truthful, sufficient, relevant, complete, clear, reliable and useful information.
- C. Active listening: practice active listening, encouraging bi-directional and effective communication as well as direct, fluid, constructive, diverse, inclusive and intercultural dialogue.
- D. Participation and engagement: encourage the participation and engagement of the Stakeholders in all of the TSUL's activities, promoting voluntary consultation processes or similar channels of interaction, and especially in the planning, construction, operation and decommissioning of the university projects.
- E. Consensus: work towards consensus with the Stakeholders, especially with local communities and indigenous populations, taking their viewpoints and expectations into consideration.
- F. Collaboration: promote collaboration with the Stakeholders, in order to contribute to compliance with the Purpose and Values of the TSUL and the achievement of the SDGs.
- G. Continuous improvement: seek continuous improvement, regularly reviewing Stakeholder engagement mechanisms to ensure that they respond in the most efficient way possible to the needs of each moment.

Scope of Application

This Policy applies to all companies, as well as to all investees.

Without prejudice to the provisions of the preceding paragraph, listed country sub holding companies and their subsidiaries, based on their own special framework of strengthened autonomy, may establish an equivalent policy, which must be in accord with the principles set forth in this Policy and in the other environmental, social and corporate governance and regulatory compliance policies of the Governance and Sustainability System.

This Policy shall also apply, to the extent relevant, to the joint ventures, temporary joint ventures and other equivalent associations, if the Company assumes the management thereof.

The Stakeholders

The value chain made up of the TSUL's carried out activities means that its Stakeholders are quite numerous. Therefore, for purposes of this Policy, the Stakeholders are grouped into the following categories:

- Workforce.
- Financial community.
- Regulatory entities.
- Customers.
- Suppliers.
- Media.
- Society as a whole.

These Stakeholders are in turn divided into other categories, the Sub-stakeholders, made up of various groups and entities, which allows the management of the relationships to be adjusted to specific and local realities, needs and expectations, in many cases relating to the Group's facilities.

Responsibilities in the Management of Stakeholder Engagement

The Scientific Council is empowered to approve and control the overall strategy on engagement with the TSUL's Stakeholders, endeavoring to ensure the proper coordination thereof at the university level.

Pursuant to the TSUL's organizational structure, inspired by the principle of subsidiarity, the country subholding companies and the head of business companies, within their purviews, are responsible for implementing the strategy regarding Stakeholder engagement, as well as maintaining direct discussion and dialogue with their various Stakeholders. For all the foregoing reasons, the country subholding companies and the head of business companies shall be endowed with the resources and structure necessary for them to carry out these activities.

Global Stakeholder Engagement Model

In 2017, the TSUL approved the Global Engagement Model based on the international standard, to comply with this Policy.

The Global Engagement Model, which is implemented to the TSUL using a shared digital application, contains the principles and provides the guidelines that, on the one hand, ensure that the TSUL's Stakeholder engagement is homogeneous while respecting the particularities of each country and business, and on the other, establish the mechanisms required to ensure that the Stakeholders have sufficient capacity to engage with the university. The main characteristics of the Global Engagement Model are the following:

- A. It is a guide to stakeholder segmentation, identifying and prioritizing sub-stakeholders based on TSUL influence and ability to influence them.
- B. It contains guidelines to ensure that stakeholders have sufficient ability to communicate with the university by regularly assessing the available channels and their characteristics (number, type and frequency of use) by those responsible for them.
- C. It provides guidelines for identifying and prioritizing relevant issues (needs and expectations) for each Stakeholder, and for identifying and managing the risks and opportunities associated with these important issues, all in relation to the TSUL's contribution to the achievement of the SDGs. In the case of risks, their management depends on their evaluation in terms of probability, impact and the existence of related reputational risks.
- D. It contains the main guidelines to design and monitor action plans that respond to issues that are significant for the Stakeholders based on an assessment of the risks and opportunities thereof, while improving communication and relations therewith.
- E. It allows you to know the impact of actions in relation to stakeholders, maximize positive impacts and mitigate negative ones.
- F. It identifies future trends relating to the expectations of the Stakeholders, as well as good practices to be shared with the university.
